From a humble family textile business started 140 years ago to a multinational conglomerate operating in five continents, Chaudhary Group ("CG") has grown to become the leading Nepalese conglomerate comprising of a diverse portfolio of sectors and industries in Nepal. In 1933, CG’s founder Mr. Bhuramull Chaudhary started his textiles business importing fabrics from India. CG started Pashupati Biscuits in 1973 and currently operates under the company – CG Foods (Nepal) Pvt. Ltd. CG is also the founder of the iconic Wai Wai brand of noodles and has 2% share of the world’s noodle market. CG has a portfolio of businesses comprising over 90 companies and 60 brands that cover over 5 continents and employs more than 10000 employees in around 30 countries. CG in 2005 forged a joint venture with Indian Hotels Company Limited to start Taj Safaris India. Prior to this CG formed a JV with Indian Hotels Limited to setup and operate the iconic Taj Samudra Hotel Srilanka & the Taj Exotica In Maldives. CG has always been bullish about the hospitality space. Decades on and CG is now a leading entity with various companies in Banking & Finance, Insurance, Fast Moving Consumer Goods, Electronics & Home Appliances, Power, Real Estate, Education, Industrial Park, CSR and Hospitality in Nepal.
